

Chair appointments

An ambitious, forward-thinking institution, the University of Surrey has an international reputation for world-class research in the physical, biomedical and social sciences and the humanities as well as a distinctive excellence in teaching and learning. At the start of 2010, the University is commencing a major campaign to recruit a substantial number of world-leading researchers. Candidates for each appointment will be recognised as currently operating at the very highest levels within their disciplines and will have the drive and capacity to generate significant opportunity for growth and development at the University of Surrey. Through the provision of strong support and strategic investment behind these posts, the University therefore anticipates that this group of recognised leaders will help articulate, shape and deliver an exceptionally vibrant research agenda for the future. Candidates for all posts are being sought globally, in line with the University's fundamental objective to continue to attain to the very highest levels that it can on the international stage.

The appointments will be made across each of the University's Faculties and are introduced briefly below:

FACULTY OF HEALTH AND MEDICAL SCIENCES

Chair in Sleep Medicine

Surrey is an international leader in sleep and chronobiology research, with cutting edge research facilities and a critical mass in research. The Chair in Sleep Medicine will be a leader in this important discipline and expand current work into patient-oriented, translational research. This will involve establishing a sleep clinic, driving the development of clinical research and building collaborations with academic sleep researchers and NHS partners. Ref: 0616.
